ANIMALS BY EXPRESS

Unusual Way of Shipping Natives of the Jungle.

Boatload Aggregation Shipped Through to Philadelphia This Morning.

WERE TWELVE WILD ANIMALS

It is doubtless somewhat unusual for a local express agent to express a circus but this is what Agent J. J. Frennlich, of the Adams Express company, did this morning, although it was rather a small circus. He sent to Philadelphia as express matter, prepaid, the Boateck animal show which was one of the attractions at the carnival last week. The aggregation included three bears, a lion, two pumas, and other animals to the number of twelve two snakes and one man. The cost of expressing the outfit was nearly $200.

It seems the show, which closed the season here, desired to go to Philadelphia for the winter, and could not get a rate from the railroads.

It had been quartered in the Van Meter stables here on South First street since Saturday and would have probably got away Friday if it could have secured a rate.

Finally the manager thought of the express companies. He could not get a rate from one because it would thus be brought into competition with the railroad, and violate its contract, so he went to Agent Frennlich, and arrangements were finally made to send the miniature circus to Philadelphia as express leaving here over the N. O. and St. L.

The local express men never handled wild animals and snakes in such profusion before, and needless to say they wasted no time in getting the truck aboard the car this morning.

IT IS UP TO THE CITY

County Officials Decide it Cannot Abandon Yeiser Park

Must Maintain it 50 Years, Was the Contract.

The question as to what will be done with the custody of Yeiser Park, has been practically settled by County Attorney Eugene Graves, to whom, with County Judge R. T. Lightfoot, the matter was referred, by the fiscal court at last sitting.

Attorney Graves stated this morning that the park was given into the care of the city for fifty years by an action of the fiscal court, and that the city could not throw it back on the county without first securing the permission and consent of the fiscal court. This is the decision reached by Attorney Graves, and he will report accordingly to fiscal court at the next meeting. It is not known what the court will do but it is tipped that the magistrates are in favor of making the city keep the park up, as it agreed to do.

FOR BELKNAP

LOUISVILLE WILL GO FOR THE REPUBLICANS BY A LARGE MAJORITY.

A local politician who has just returned from Louisville states that everything is for Belknap except the city administration, which has been belknapized. The Democrats in their desperation have even introduced politics in the school board in order to help them.

The police officers are for Beckham, but the street car companies and most all of the merchants seem to be for Colonel Belknap. The Paducah man was surprised after reading some of the Louisville papers to find everything so favorable to Colonel Belknap.

Attorney Wm. Marble went to Princeton today at noon on business.

WE'RE AFTER HIM.

DECIDES SUIT INVOLVING QUARTER OF CENT

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 14.—In the case of Ada Crowling vs Joe Mldrow, decided in the supreme court, a controversy involving one-quarter of a cent was decided. The case involved the title to a piece of land which had been sold for taxes, and the title was attacked because of the alleged illegal sale. The case was tried on an agreed statement of facts, which showed that the legal amount for which it could be sold was $1.28 3/4, while the sale was made by the collector for $1.29, thus exceeding the legal amount by one quarter of a cent. In the opinion Justice Hughes said: "The only question in this case is, does a sale of land for one-quarter of a cent more than is due upon it render the sale void? It is true that a sale of land for taxes for an amount substantially in excess of the amount due upon it will render the sale void. But in this case the overcharge was not substantial, being for only one quarter of a cent, an amount less than the least coin issued by the government. To hold this sale invalid would seem to be absurd. There would be no way of making the exact change, and it seems trivial, and more reasonable that the party whose duty it was to pay the tax should pay one-quarter of a cent too much than that the government should lose three-quarters of a cent. The excess in the case was trifling and did not invalidate the sale."

MORE TROUBLE IS BREWING SOUTH OF THE U. S.

Panama, Oct. 14.—According to news received here from Central America, President Zelaya of Nicaragua and President Estrada Cabrera of Guatemala are preparing to declare war against Salvador and Honduras. Ten thousand Guatemalan soldiers are reported to be marching towards the Salvadoran frontier with a powerful force of artillery. At Santa Ana, thirty-five miles northwest of San Salvador, a Salvadoran army is being organized under General Regalado. Many war elements have been transported from the port of Acajamal to La Union, which is near the Nicaraguan frontier. Nicaraguan emigrants are receiving arms from General Regalado, which have been transported to Amapala. It is reported that Salvador and Honduras will back the liberal movement in Nicaragua, headed by Dr. Francisco Baca against President Zelaya.

ROBS STORE IN BANDIT STYLE FOR COCAINE

Franklin, La., Oct. 14.—Destitute of money and crazed by a desire for cocaine, John Riggs of Missouri today entered a Main street drug store and demanded a dose of "dope." The only occupant of the store was a young woman clerk, who, when she found herself looking into the barrel of a six shooter, uttered a scream and left the store to Riggs' care. Helping himself to cocaine, Riggs started away, but was arrested, and is now in jail, contented under the influence of the cocaine.

ANOTHER IS TIPPED FOR A CABINET POSITION

London, Oct. 14.—The interesting announcement is made that the new marquis of Salisbury, the late Viscount Cranborne, will enter the cabinet as lord of the privy seal, the office held by his father until his retirement last year when Mr. Balfour assumed the post without taking the salary of $10,000 specially attached to it when the late marquis of Salisbury took the position.

WITH A TINGE OF GRAY BURTON AGAINST IT

Will Paducah be Decorated Tomorrow and Friday.

The Veterans Will Begin Arriving Tonight—The Arrangements.

MANY ARE EXPECTED TO COME

Major T. E. Moss will tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock at the fair grounds deliver an address of welcome to the veterans who come to Paducah to attend the reunion of the Second brigade, Confederate Veterans. It is not known who will respond.

The principal orators invited to speak, Colonel Breckinridge, of Lexington; Captain W. C. Ellis, of Owensboro; former Congressman Polk Laffoon, of Madisonville, and General Lyon, of Eddyville, but none of them has been heard from yet except Captain Ellis, who regrets that he will be unable to attend.

The veterans will begin coming in tonight and tomorrow will arrive by the car load. Preparations for them are complete at the grounds.

One of the most unique features of the reunion will be a genuine camp fire tendered the Murray camp by Captain Charles Lofland, of Paducah, who will entertain them near the depot from 9 to 10 Friday night when they reach the depot on their way home. It is expected that it will be highly entertaining, especially to those of the later generation who do not know what a camp fire is.

Messrs. R. J. Barber and Charles Reed are the privilege committee, who have charge of letting all privileges.

Adj. J. V. Greif will be at the Palmer house tomorrow until 11 a. m. to enroll the veterans and issue badges.

Mr. Joe Uilman is today collecting subscriptions, and those who signed for donations have come up pretty well.

Major Lawson, financial agent for the Confederate home at Powee Valley, is in the city and last night at the meeting of James Walbert Camp, made a talk of the many advantages of the home.

The big tents that are to shelter the vets during their stay are up at the fair grounds and everything is in readiness for the big reunion. Preparations are being made for feeding the multitudes, and it is very interesting to visit the grounds and watch preparations.

The Paducah chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy will meet at the Palmer House tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, and go to the fair grounds in a body, to accept an invitation of the veterans to dinner at noon.

In the afternoon at 4 o'clock the U. D. C. will give a reception to the veterans and their wives, in the parlors of the Palmer House. A cordial invitation is extended to the visitors to be present at this function.

COMPLIMENT FOR PADUCAHAN.

CAPT. B. B. DAVIS TO DELIVER AN ADDRESS AT ARCHITECTS' MEETING.

Architect B. B. Davis of this city, left today for Cleveland, O., where he will deliver an address before the national meeting of the American Institute of Architects. The subject of Captain Davis' address will be "American Renaissance." The invitation to appear on the program of this meeting, which will be composed of the most cultured architects of the country, was a nice compliment.

A CASE OF PI.

Jamestown, N. D., Oct. 14.—A mo. entered the office of the Journal at Kenal and spilled several cases of type in the street. The interior of the office was demolished. Editor C. L. Allen had been fighting a lawless element and it is believed the members of the gang committed the act.

Mrs. E. Hutchinson, of Chicago, who has been visiting her son-in-law, Mr. Frank Fulton, went to Richmond Ind., today at noon to visit.

Chairman of Rivers and Harbor's Committee Obdurate.

It Is Said He Will Do All Possible to Prevent Any Ohio River Appropriation.

LIVELY FIGHT TO BE MADE

The Ohio Valley Improvement Association convened in annual meeting this morning at Evansville, Ind., for its object the work of obtaining appropriations from Congress for the Ohio River.

Of interest, particularly at this time, is a telegram sent out from Washington yesterday to the Louisville Times, as follows:

"Representative Burton, chairman of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, is setting out deliberately to suppress the extensive appropriations for the improvement of the Ohio river. In his conference with the President the other day he said it would be the sensible thing to have no general river and harbor bill, only a few special improvements needed on the great lakes should be looked after. He spoke of the pressure which would be made for the Ohio river improvements. It was then that he suggested that the states and cities interested along the line should be made to pay their share when the localities were especially benefited. He did not think that this system should apply to the payments for the lake ports.

"Burton's selfish opposition to the Ohio river improvements is becoming stronger and stronger. Last year he made a show of being friendly, but this year he is more in the open. He hopes to avoid the issue at the next session of the Congress when there may be no general appropriation for rivers and harbors.

"The friends of the improvement will not allow this to deter them. They will ask for an appropriation for a survey. They will insist upon this as their right and will let no economic policy for campaign effect deter them. Republicans and Democrats alike are interested in the measure. If forced to the friends of the river from Pittsburgh to Cairo will take the same position the irrigation people did last year. They merely said to the rivers and harbors people: 'Hands up; give us your share for irrigation or you get no rivers and harbors money.' They are strong enough to make this stick.

"It is understood here that the river people will organize regardless of party in the same way if Burton does not come to terms. It is expected that Swagar Shorley, of Louisville, will be a member of the Rivers and Harbors Committee and will take an active part in the fight."

THE BOGARD CASE.

A VERY PECULIAR ONE DECIDED YESTERDAY.

The case of Bogard against the Illinois Central, from McCracken, reversed by the court of appeals yesterday, is a most peculiar one. Bogard's petition for damages for injuries for being struck by an engine failed to state the time or place he had been injured, and the circuit court sustained a motion to require the plaintiffs to be more specific, and the case was subsequently thrown out of court.

It is not known on what grounds the court of appeals reversed. The railroad attorneys here state that they have never succeeded in learning who Bogard is, what color, or when or where he was hurt.

MEDICAL SOCIETY MEETING.

SEVERAL PADUCAH DOCTORS ATTENDING WITH THEIR WIVES.

The McCracken County Medical society is in session today at Rouse's Grove, near this city. Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Stewart, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Wilkerson, Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Sights, Dr. B. B. Griffith and Dr. Johnson Bass of this city are in attendance.

NOT REAL SINS

Minister Lenient With Card Playing and Dancing.

He Does Not Think Theater-going Is Sinful, Either.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 14.—"If Jesus Christ were here today and told us just how he wanted us to live and act, I do not believe that among the important things which he would mention would be card playing, dancing and theater going. These things are secondary," said Rev. J. H. O. Smith of Valparaiso, Ind., at a meeting of the association of Christian ministers, held at the Grand Pacific hotel.

"When we come to give a final account of our actions, we will probably be asked what kind of lives we lived—if we were kind to the suffering, if we were charitable and such important questions as these. I do not believe that we will be asked if we danced, if we played cards and if we attended theaters. These things, in my mind, are only incidental.

"As a pastor, I have not attended theaters, because I thought that it would set a bad example for my following, and because my time was otherwise employed; not because I thought that they were particularly bad."

COURT TAKES 12-YEAR-OLD WIFE FROM HUSBAND

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 14.—In the circuit court today, Chancellor Sneed, in habeas corpus proceedings, decided the case of L. R. Early, vs. William Bradford, holding that the plaintiff Early, could not have the custody of his child wife, Artie Bradford, aged 12, and daughter of the defendant. Early sought her on the ground that they were married in Fannin county, Ga. Under the Georgia law a bride must be 14 before her legal marriage. The wife stated in court that she did not want to live with her husband, but had been persuaded by him to run away and marry. Father and daughter left tonight for their home. Early is 40 years old.

DO YOU WANT TO YAWN?

Feel cold shiverings, aching in the bones, lack of energy, headache and great depression? These symptoms may be followed by violent headache, high fever, extreme nervousness, a condition known as malaria. Herbine cures it. Take it before the disease gets a fair hold, though it will work a cure in any stage. J. A. Hopkins, Manchester, Kan., writes: "I have used your great medicine, Herbine, for several years. There is nothing better for malaria, chills and fever, headache, biliousness and for a blood purifying tonic, there is nothing as good." 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

GIVES UP JEWELS WHEN FIANCE IS ARRESTED

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 14.—An hour after she learned of her sweetheart's arrest for the thefts from his employer, Miss Mary Jacobs of Austin went to the police station and surrendered a large diamond ring, given her to seal their engagement, and a diamond brooch. The police say that the jewelry is a portion of the goods alleged to have been stolen from Sears, Roebuck & Co., by James B. Preston, assistant manager of the credit department of the firm. Miss Jacobs is said to be the daughter of a wealthy Chicago business man, and was soon to have been married to Preston.

"IT GOES RIGHT TO THE SPOT"

When pain or irritation exists on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment will give prompt relief. "It goes right to the spot," said an old man who was rubbing it in, to cure his rheumatism. J. R. Smith, proprietor Smith House, Tonaha, Tex., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for several years, and have found it to be a fine remedy for all aches and pains, and I recommend it for pains in the throat and chest." 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

BABY WEIGHS LESS

THAN 22 OUNCES

York, Pa., Oct. 14.—The stork paid a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John King yesterday and left the smallest package of humanity that has ever been born to parents in this city. It is a girl baby, weighing 21 3/4 ounces. Placed in a clear box there is ample room for the child to sleep comfortably. The baby is perfect in form and physically vigorous. The doctor says that it will live.

SECRETARY SHAW

He Will Make Three Speeches in Kentucky.

Will Not Come As Far As Paducah—Goes to Chicago From Owensboro.

WILL DRAW LARGE CROWDS

Chairman John C. Wood, of the Republican state campaign speakers' bureau, has announced at Louisville the definite speaking appointments in Kentucky of Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the United States treasury, and Secretary Shaw will not come to Paducah. Secretary Shaw will speak at Lexington Monday afternoon, October 19. John W. Yerkes, who was scheduled to speak at Mt. Sterling Wednesday afternoon, will speak at the latter city in the evening instead in order that he will be able to be with Secretary Shaw at Lexington. He will probably also speak. Secretary Shaw will remain in Lexington until Tuesday morning when he will go to Louisville. He will speak there Tuesday night, October 20, probably at the auditorium. The next and last speech made by Secretary Shaw will be at Owensboro Wednesday afternoon.

Secretary Shaw will come to Kentucky from Cincinnati Monday morning. Saturday night he will be entertained at a banquet given in his honor by Cincinnati Republicans. It is probable that Mr. Sam Roberts, collector of internal revenue at Lexington, will meet Secretary Shaw at Cincinnati. Leaving Kentucky Secretary Shaw will go to Chicago.

The speaking of Secretary Shaw in Kentucky will doubtless attract large crowds at each place where he is scheduled to appear. He is recognized as one of the ablest stump operators in the country and his coming to this state is a signal honor to Kentucky Republicans.

THEY EAT AMMUNITION

TO GET DRUNK

London, Oct. 14.—During the South African campaign the British soldiers discovered a new and extraordinary form of intoxication. The ingenious privates found that they could get all the excitement of a powerful narcotic by eating a cordite charge of cartridges, each of which contains sixty strands of cordite, and is very similar in appearance to vermicelli.

The British Medical Journal gives particulars of this form of intoxication. It says that Major Jennings, on learning that the men had been eating cordite, made experiments himself. On sucking a strand he found it sweet, pleasant and pungent, but it resulted in a headache which lasted for 36 hours. Dissolved in tea, it produced almost immediate exhilaration, "involving almost demoniacal actions," followed by a heavy sleep and stupor of from five to twelve hours, according to the quantity taken. Added to beer, it produces the worst effects, exciting a quarrelsome and destructive mania, and producing the most rapid intoxication.

UNLAWFUL COMBINE

SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA MAKES IMPORTANT RULING.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 14.—

"Trades unions may cease to work for reasons satisfactory to their members, but if they combine to prevent others from obtaining work, the combination is unlawful."

This, in brief, is the opinion handed down by Justice Dean of the Pennsylvania supreme court in the case involving the rights of unions, as brought forth by the allied building trades organization and the plumbers' league of this city. The decision sustains that handed down by the lower court of common pleas. The cause of the strife between the two labor organizations was the attempt to force the plumbers' league into affiliation with the allied building trades organizations.

BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXIONS

Are spoiled by using any kind of preparation that fills the pores of the skin. The best way to secure a clear complexion, free from sallowness, pimples, blotches, etc., is to keep the liver in good order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver, and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

OLDER THAN THE PYRAMIDS

The disease known as Contagious Blood Poison has become the curse of all mankind. It is universal and world-wide, and existed centuries ago and is older even than the Pyramids.

Upon the bodies of the ancient Egyptian mummies nodes and knots and other unmistakable symptoms of this horrible blood taint have been discovered. Traces of mercurial poisoning have also been found in the bones and joints, showing this mineral was used in the treatment of Blood Poison in those early times. In all uncivilized, as well as enlightened nations, this vile disease is found to-day in all its loathsomeness, entailing untold suffering not only upon the one who contracts it, but saddest of all is the humiliation and shame that is brought into the lives of the innocent by this degrading malady. So contagious is it that one can become inoculated by drinking from the same vessel, shaking hands with or handling the clothing of one infected with this disease. It is often transmitted from parents to children, and sores, scrofulous swellings, severe skin eruptions, sore eyes and catarrhal troubles are some of the effects.

The first outward sign of Contagious Blood Poison is a small sore or blister. As the poisonous virus spreads through the system the glands of the groins swell, a red eruption appears upon the body, and ulcers and sores break out in the mouth and throat, the hair and eye-brows drop out and the body is covered with copper-colored splotches and sores, and the poison even works its way into the bones and joints and attacks the nerves.

The time-worn remedies—Mercury and Potash—are still used in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison, but the effects of these drugs upon the system are almost as bad as the disease itself, and the best witnesses against these remedies are those who have used them longest. Mercury only smothers the poison in the system, and the disease is liable to return at any time, and that metallic taste in the mouth, tender gums, ulcerated throat, and other returning symptoms, show the poison is still active and the patient far from a cure.

S. S. S. contains no mineral ingredients whatever, and we offer $1,000 for proof to the contrary. It is a simple vegetable remedy, but a sure antidote for the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, and a certain cure for this horrible malady.

It attacks the disease promptly, the improvement beginning as soon as the system gets under the influence of the medicine, and continues until every vestige of the poison is driven from the blood, and the patient is completely and permanently restored to health.

S. S. S. is recognized everywhere as a specific for blood poison. It has been tested in thousands of cases, and its success was established years ago. If you are suffering from this debasing and despicable disease in any form, get it out of your system before it does any further damage. We have a special book describing fully all the different stages and symptoms of Contagious Blood Poison, which we will mail free. Write us all particulars of your case, and medical advice will be furnished without charge.

HAS DAUGHTER ARRESTED FOR WEARING FINE DRESSES

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 14.—Frances Bodvark, 16 years old, of 4744 Locust street, who was arrested on a warrant sworn out by her mother on a charge of disorderly conduct, was released this morning by Justice Fitzgerald. Mrs. Bodvark alleged that the girl, who works as a domestic, spent all her money on clothes and never took any of it home.

"Does she wear any diamonds?" asked the justice, looking at the girl. "No, she doesn't," replied the mother; "but she dresses too well for one in her station," and she frowned at the young woman, who was neatly but plainly clad.

"I don't think she dresses too well," said the justice. "It is the duty of all girls to wear as nice clothes as they can afford, and if your daughter earns the money to buy her clothes she ought to be allowed to wear what she wishes. The case is dismissed."

From Despondency to Health.

A few months ago my health seemed to break down altogether. I had a complete collapse and nature refused to sustain me any longer. I lost my appetite, could not sleep and was in the very slough of despondency, which was greatly aggravated at the menstrual period. Our physician was unable to give me anything which was of the least benefit to me and I kept getting worse and was very nervous and hysterical.

A friend who had used Wine of Cardui suggested that I try it. So I sent for some and within two days after I started to use it I felt a great deal better. I could sleep at night and gradually the nervousness passed away. I became strong and had no pain at the period.

I am now enjoying the best of health due to the merits of Wine of Cardui for which I am deeply grateful.

WINE of CARDUI

There are hundreds of women in this city today who need Wine of Cardui and they would not hesitate a moment to take it if they only knew what a record it has made. Day after day and year after year letters like this one, praising Wine of Cardui, have appeared in the papers of this land and hundreds of thousands of sick women have secured relief from painful and irregular menstruation, leucorrhoea and bearing down pains by following the advice given.

Can any fair minded woman refuse to take the testimony of ten thousand of her sisters who have suffered just as she and then have been completely cured? Who can fairly say "Wine of Cardui will not help me" with such facts before her? Wine of Cardui is a pure vegetable extract that is so mild and simple in nature that a girl can take it with benefit when threatened with early menstrual disorders. Older women are cured of the more serious menstrual troubles, bearing down pains and leucorrhoea. THE YOUNG MAN AND HIS CAT.

Find Venus.

A Young Man became so fond of his Cat, that he made her his constant companion, and used to declare that if she were a woman he would marry her. Venus, at length, seeing how sincere was his affection, gratified his wishes and changed the Cat into a young and blooming woman. They were accordingly married, but at night hearing a mouse in the room the young bride sprang from the arms of her husband, caught the mouse and killed it. Venus, angry at this behavior and seeing that under the form of a woman there was still hidden the nature of a cat, determined that form and nature should no longer disagree, and changed her back again in a Cat.

Boston Wins in the Inter-League Series of Nine Games.

Greatest Contest on Record—Central League Meeting Today.

Boston, of the National Americans, yesterday won from Pittsburgh by a score of 3 to 0, thus defeating the four times champions of the National League five times out of the eight games played, and winning the world's championship.

The eyes of fans all over the country have been on this series of nine games, and Pittsburgh started out well, winning three of the first four played, but fell down after that. The general opinion is, however, that Boston can not beat Pittsburgh when the latter is in good shape. The club has been broken down for several weeks past, and in this post-league series had but one pitcher on which it could depend, Philippe, while Boston had the pick of the Americans.

The meeting of the Central League magnates at Terre Haute is set for today, instead of yesterday, and President Weille, of the local baseball Association, expects a telegram notifying him what luck Paducah has in getting into the league.

THE APPROACHING CHANGES.

Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge, of the Lexington Herald, says a number of things in a recent issue which should impress every thoughtful citizen of the state, and which may be applied locally as well as to the state. Colonel Breckinridge's paper is Democratic, but it says what it thinks.

He says under the caption, "Radical Change Necessary."

"The people of Kentucky, though divided into two great parties, are a homogeneous people: the rank and file of the two great parties are precisely alike in their training, impulses, habits, character and necessities. It is all bosh to hold that the average of the white members of either party rank above the average of the white members of the other party; and for the purpose of this article we exclude any reference to the colored people. In Lexington the Democratic citizens are as good in every sense as their Republican fellow-citizens, and no better. Whatever is wrongly done by either party might have been done by the other party if the relative positions had been changed."

A belief is expressed that the rank and file of all parties mean well, and the leaders are to blame for the harm brought on the state. Of the Democratic grafters in charge of the Democratic state machinery he says:

"It may be true that the overthrow of these leaders and the destruction of the present machinery are necessary to redeem Kentucky. This has been our judgment during the past few years, and we hope and believe that the people of Kentucky are tired of the personal, bitter, lawless, violent and in some localities, dishonest politics of the past few years. The machinery of the Democratic party can not be changed until next year; the primary prevented any change this year. Next year a convention must be held and, unless we are greatly mistaken, the party will be aroused to the practical importance of a radical change."

is the Democratic machinery that has ruined the city. For years men have gone to the polls like sheep and blindly voted for anything that was put up as a Democrat, without considering intelligence, character, ability, honesty or anything else. All required was that a candidate be a Democrat. A majority of the best business men had too many other more important matters, as they thought, to take up their time, so whenever there was a convention or a primary they staid at home and let the ward heelers, bums and professional politicians run things, until after all these many years, they have awakened to the fact that for years they have been victims of the same sycophantic crowd, their money has been wasted, they have few public improvements, and must start over.

This is why a number of the best Democrats in the city have united in an independent ticket which, while it will not be in the race, at least acts as a straw which shows which way the wind blows.

The people need a change, as Colonel Breckinridge says in the state as well as city, and the gangs now in office are what have to be changed. A vote for Mr. Jeff J. Read, a young man who has the respect of everybody who knows him, who is intelligent, gifted with more than the average sound common sense, and will give the people a progressive, economical administration as mayor of Paducah, will be a vote to down the machine. Don't waste your vote. Cast it for Mr. Read, who stands for progress and improvement. Don't throw it away on the gang and vote against your own interests.

NOT REPUBLICANS.

The Sun desires to call the attention of Republicans in Paducah to the fact that the independent ticket put out several days ago in Paducah is in no respect a Republican ticket, and should not receive the support of loyal Republicans.

The Republicans of Paducah have a ticket of their own in the field, and have a platform which shows where they stand. All true Republicans will support this ticket. The independent ticket was put out by Democrats. The meeting at which the nominations were made was called by a Democrat who formerly held an appointive office under the present Democratic administration, and a former Democratic officeholder presided. A large majority of the men in the organization which is largely responsible for the ticket are Democrats. Those Republicans on this independent ticket, if they accept the nominations, will become bolters. Most of them participated in the recent Republican mass convention, and are honor bound to support the nominees of that convention. They have a right to become bolters if they choose and to vote for whomever they please, but when they do no Republican is under any obligations to vote for them. When they accept nominations on an opposing ticket they are no longer Republicans, and should not expect to be treated as such. Every loyal Republican should vote the straight Republican ticket, and let the Democrats and the independent ticket which is so ingeniously baited with Republicans to catch suckers, fight it out between themselves. The Republican ticket has no past record to be ashamed of, and promises to give the people of Paducah a clean, progressive and economical administration, which is all sensible men can ask.

An effort is being made by the Democratic machine to have the Democrats in Paducah believe the independent ticket was put out by Republicans, so they will not vote for it. All loyal Republicans are given to understand that the Republicans have a ticket of their own and all true Republicans will support it.

A Democrat of Lexington who was quoted several days ago as saying he intended to vote the Republican ticket has been whipped into line and comes out in a card, which has been adopted by the Democratic campaign committee as a good specimen of literature to send about the state, saying he is going to vote the Democratic ticket. He does not say, however, that he did not say a few days ago that he was not. And the chances are that he will vote the Republican ticket, although he has been effectually bluffed.

That hapless Democratic bugbear "Republican corruption fund" is now, as usual on the eve of election, being exploited quite extensively in the Democratic press. We know nothing about any "Republican corruption fund" over which they seem so wrought up, but it is to be noted that it was not raised by letting conflicts out of the penitentiary at $800 apiece.

the Journal, of Kansas City, in which appears a sermon preached by Rev. J. O. Reid, formerly of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church here, commending the position President Roosevelt took in the Miller case at Washington. It is an able sermon, and shows Rev. Reid at his best.

The people of Ballard county would not vote bonds for a new court house, so fiscal court simply levied a tax of $2 for county purposes, and out of the taxes it will build the court house. Hence the people will have to build a new court house after all.

The public, by stopping at Fifth and Jefferson streets, may see what kind of stuff the city has been buying and paying for under the head of "gravel." A little water added to it would make it principally mud.

FAITH HEALERS

AN IMPORTANT DECISION FROM NEW YORK.

Albany, Oct. 14.—Special interest attaches to the decision handed down today by the Court of Appeals in the case of the people vs. Pierson, declaring dependencies on faith healing in the case of sickness to be criminal negligence.

Pierson lives at White Plains, and early in 1901, was sentenced to $500 fine or 500 days' imprisonment for criminal neglect in failing to provide a licensed physician to attend his 16-months-old adopted daughter in a case of bronchial pneumonia which afterward proved fatal. The conviction was secured under the penal code.

In his opinion, written by Judge Haight, the Court of Appeals says: "The section of the code under which the indictment was found contemplates that there are persons upon whom the law casts a duty of caring for minors."

"We are aware that there are people who believe that the divine power may be invoked to heal the sick, and that faith is all that is required. There are others who believe the Creator has supplied the earth, nature's storehouse, with everything that man may want for his support, and maintenance, including the restoration and preservation of his health, and that he is left to work out his own salvation, under fixed natural laws. There are still others who believe that Christianity and Science go hand in hand, both proceeding from the Creator. That Science is but the agency of the Almighty, through which agency he accomplishes results, and that both science and Divine power may be invoked together to restore the diseased and suffering humanity. But sitting as a court of law, for the purpose of construing and determining the meaning of statutes, we have nothing to do with variance in religious belief, and have no power to determine which is correct. We place no limitations upon the power of the mind over the body, the power of the faith to dispel the disease or the power of the Supreme Being to heal sick. We merely declare the law as given us by the legislature. We find no error on the part of the trial court."

THE NUMBER 13

IT PLAYS AN INTERESTING PART IN LIFE OF MAY-FIELD MAN.

Louis L. Johnson, chief cutter at the old Woolen Mills, spells his name with 13 letters and has been followed during life by the luck attending the number 13 which he claims is good. In his work at the woolen mill, says the Mayfield Messenger, the number is very noticeable. He has served as a cutter in pant factories 13 years. His father was born on the 13th day of the month. He weighed 13 pounds when born and has two boys each of whom weighed 13 pounds when born and now one of the boys weighs 26 pounds. There are 13 letters in the name of each member of his family. He is 13 years older than his wife. His wife is 13 years older than his older daughter and she is 13 years older than his second daughter. He has moved 13 times and has 13 ducks in his yard.

ARCHBISHOP KAIN

DIES AT HIS HOME IN BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, Oct. 14.—The Most Rev. John Joseph Kain, archbishop of St. Louis, Mo., died last night at St. Agnes sanitarium of this city, where he has been a patient since May 12. Death, which came peacefully, had been hourly expected for several days. Dr. J. M. Stone and a number of priests and relatives, including his sister, a Sister of Charity, known in the religious world as Sister Mary Joseph, were at his bedside when the end came. Heart disease was the ailment for which the archbishop was first treated when he first arrived at the institution, but a general breakdown from overwork caused him much trouble. Recently appendicitis developed and the prelate rapidly sank, an operation, which was deemed necessary, being impracticable owing to the enfeebled condition of the patient. No arrangements have been made for the funeral, and it is not known whether the body will be buried in his family lot at Martinsburg, W. Va., or taken to St. Louis for interment.

Because of the serious illness of Archbishop John J. Kain he was relieved of the active work of this archdiocese several months ago by Bishop Glennon of Kansas City, who was appointed coadjutor.

Archbishop Kain is one of the most widely known and most popular prelates in the United States. He was born in Martinsburg, Berkeley county, W. Va., on May 31, 1841, of Irish parents. He entered St. Mary's College at Baltimore in 1862, which was the scene of his high studies. He was ordained a priest by Archbishop Spalding on July 2, 1866.

As a priest his early work was in the territory along the Potomac river. In May, 1875, he was consecrated bishop of Wheeling. He ruled that diocese until June 15, 1893, when he was appointed coadjutor to the Most Rev. Richard Kendrick of St. Louis. Upon the death of that prelate he succeeded to the archbishopric of St. Louis on May 21, 1895.

IN A FLOOD

MISS FLORA MAY CLARK WRITES INTERESTINGLY TO FAMILY.

Miss Flora May Clark, the well known actress who is now starring with the Verner Warren company, had a narrow escape a few days ago in the flood at New York. She was at Walton, N. Y., at the time and writes as follows:

Walton, N. Y., Friday 5 p. m.—We are in a flood. The water is already about four feet rushing around the hotel and streets. We can't get out of the hotel in any direction. A perfect torrent of water all around it. One dam has burst and there is only one more to hold back the flood. The bridges are all giving way. No trains are running and travelers at the station cannot even get to the hotel. A man just came in and reported two people drowned. It is getting dark and the water will soon be in the hotel. If it stands we will be all O. K. I will wait for developments. I went out about 3 o'clock with rubber boots to see the girls at the other hotel. I started about an hour and waded half way back and one of the men had to wade out and carry me back in his arms. It had risen a foot in that time.

8:30 a. m.—Well we are all O. K. It has stopped raining and the water is going down rapidly. There is great loss to the town and surrounding country.

NO TRACE

OF JOY BURGLARS SECURED IN PADUCAH.

A fire at Joy, Ky., which is supposed to have been of incendiary origin, was reported to the police here today. Joy is located on the Kentucky side of the Ohio river, opposite Golconda and the general merchandise store of a man named Gibson was broken into, robbed and then fired. The officers here are working on the case with hopes of securing a clue to the identity of the guilty persons, but have found no trace of them here.

POISON IN THE WATER

Many Soldiers Ill From Some Mysterious Act.

Engineer Killed at His Post—Boy Murderer Gets a Life Sentence.

POISONED SOLDIERS.

Cripple Creek, Col., Oct. 14.—City Chemist Martin of Colorado Springs has analyzed the drinking water which caused the illness of 68 militiamen at Camp El Paso last Thursday, finding that cobalt was present in the portion of one and one-half grains to each gallon of water.

"We are convinced from the result of the examination," said Dr. P. H. Hanford, surgeon-general of the national guard, "that the poison was placed in the water by persons unknown."

PLEADED GUILTY TO LARCENY

New York, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Marie Layton Johnston, formerly bookkeeper for the United States Playing Card company of Cincinnati, pleaded guilty today to two indictments, each charging her with the larceny of $750 from that company. Her plea of not guilty to three indictments charging forgery stands, but it is understood that the district attorney has consented not to press them. The defendant was remanded for one week.

AGAINST FURTHER WARFARE.

Panama, Colombia, Oct. 14.—The telegraph service has been restored, but no news has been received here confirming the reports of a revolutionary plot. It is believed that the fact that the government knew of the plan long before the date fixed for its execution dooms it to failure.

The country seems to be against further warfare.

DIED AT HIS POST.

Elizabeth City, N. C., Oct. 14.—The southbound Norfolk and Southern passenger train was wrecked here by an open switch, and Engineer William Seay received injuries which caused his death. The fireman jumped, but the engineer stuck to his post.

BOY CONFESSES TO MURDER.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Earl Ellsworth, who recently confessed to having murdered his father and mother and a boarder at his home in Woodstock, today threw himself on the mercy of the court. He was given a life sentence in the penitentiary.

YOUTHFUL PRISONER

He is Charged With Snatching a Purse.

Says He Took it to Keep Some One Else From Getting it.

Johnnie Stephens, a white boy about 12 years of age, was arrested this morning by Officer Gillman for snatching Miss Hoover's pocketbook from her hand on the carnival grounds last week.

The officers received the report of the theft on the next day and began to work the case up. After an investigation it was learned that the Stephens boy and several other youths had been in the grounds and had been seen to snatch several pocketbooks, and after a sweat box operation the officers finally made the boy admit that he had gotten the purse. The reason he grabbed it, he said, was that some one else was after it, and decided it would be better that he secure it.

Miss Hoover stays at the Little spoke factory and was apprised of the arrest this morning. The boy claims he gave $3 of the $5.15 taken back to some woman who said it would be "allright" and turned the empty purse over to the officers this morning.

A warrant will be issued against the boy for robbery and he will be given a hearing before Judge Sanders tomorrow. He works at the heading factory in Mechanicsburg and was arrested while at work this morning. The officers will try to secure the names of companions.

HOT BEVERAGES
WHAT TO USE IN PLACE OF TEA AND COFFEE.

Many drink tea and coffee against their better judgment because they require a hot drink at meal time. They know that by the use of tea and coffee they are only drugging themselves but they struggle along and continue to use one or the other. To these people Postum Cereal Coffee is a great help for many people find well boiled Postum superior in flavor to coffee to say nothing of its great health restoring qualities.

The effect upon those who leave off tea and coffee and take on Postum is very marked for the old time coffee ailments such as heart trouble, kidney disease, nervousness and other ills soon disappear as if by magic. The Postum makes new red blood and this is shown in the rosy cheeks and clear complexion that replace the blotched sallow skin of the coffee drinker. A young school miss of Alva, Okla., says of Postum: "I have used it now for over a year and my complexion and general health show the change. Before that time I drank tea and coffee and my complexion was sallow and maddly. I also had almost constant dull headaches. I realized that I must give up tea and coffee but hung onto them because I felt the need of a hot drink at meal times."

"One day I heard Postum so well spoken of I decided to try it and I bless the day I did so. I dropped coffee and took up Postum and now my dull headaches have disappeared, my complexion is fresh and rosy, eyes bright and mind clear. I sleep well now and I owe it all to using Postum in place of coffee."

"The matron of the Young Ladies' boarding house at the Alva Normal school has adopted Postum as a standard drink as she is positive the students study and get along better on Postum than on any other drink."

"A lady friend of mine had a son who was a nervous wreck, due, so his doctor said, to coffee. The lady tried Postum and the young man relished it so he drank it in preference to coffee and in a few weeks he was like an entirely new person. I know of lots more cases too." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

ITALIAN CONTRACT

No Tobacco to be Handled in Paducah This Year.

Mr. Mike Griffin to be Associated with Mr. Downs, at Murray.

The Italian government will let no tobacco contract at Paducah this year. This was decided before Mr. Denning, of Virginia, who arrived Saturday, left last night. He is the American agent for the Italian government, and during the past year there were Italian contracts at Paducah, Murray, Mayfield, Fulton, and Martin, Tenn.

This year Paducah is cut out, on account of the short crop, it is said. Mr. Mike Griffin who has had the Italian contract here, will be sent to Murray to be associated with Mr. Downs, the Italian representative there. He will probably continue to reside in Paducah, however. Italian contracts will be let in the other four places, as usual.

PILING ON IT.

WHAT CAUSED THE TROUBLE TO THE WESTERN UNION CABLE.

A boat was today dispatched from the St. Bernard coal Company by the linemen who arrived from Chicago to repair the the Western Union cable between Paducah and Brookport, and the work may be finished in two days.

The workmen discovered the cause of the trouble. Near the Brookport shore the Illinois Central railroad company, in placing piling near the incline, drove a huge pole directly into the cable, mashing it far into the ground, but not breaking it entirely in two. This big log could not be pulled up, even with a locomotive, and consequently the workmen have to dig it out, and the cable will be pulled from under it when "the hole" is large enough to loosen the piling.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Completely Cured Me.

Lucky the sufferer from nervous diseases whose symptoms are as plainly marked as those of Mr. Powell, as given below. Too often the symptoms are mistaken for some derangement of the digestive organs and the wrong treatment administered and continued until too late to make a change beneficial. Too many doctors make the mistake of trying to cure the symptoms instead of the disease. Dr. Miles' Nervine goes to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the nervous system, puts life and vigor into every muscle, every fibre, every tissue, every nerve cell. There is nothing so good for the nerves as Nervine.

"About four years ago I suffered from pains around my heart, and after the least exertion it would palpitate in such a manner as to cause me much distress. I had a feeling of oppression in my chest, was nervous, could not sleep, lost my appetite and flesh, had pains in back and shoulder, my food did not digest and I could not eat anything without causing distress. My feet were cold at times and I became exceedingly weak and all run down. I tried ten different doctors, one or two of whom gave me temporary relief. Finally I saw that Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine was advertised to cure sufferers from such nervous disorders as mine and procured a bottle. I am now permanently cured and I cannot say enough for the Restorative Nervine."—H. L. POWELL, Henderson, N. C.

FORGED PARDONS.

USED TO SECURE RELEASE OF MILITARY PRISONERS.

San Francisco, Oct. 14—James H. Darling, Joseph White, Cornelius Cokes and John L. Moore, military prisoners at Alcatraz, have been released by the authorities on pardons which it is now discovered were forged. These fraudulent pardons were sent through the ordinary course of a soldier's pardon, bearing the regular seals and stamps and approved by the president, but by whom and through whose assistance the forgeries were perpetrated are questions not yet solved, but it is believed the investigation now in progress will eventually clear up the mystery.

The four prisoners were sentenced to five years' imprisonment and had more than two years unexpired term to serve. They were set at liberty October 7 and were landed in this city on the government steamer General McDowell.

ARTISTS REBEL

THEY CLAIM ORGANIZED LA-
BOR IS TRYING TO CON-TROL THEM.

New York, Oct. 14—Artists and sculptors through the country are preparing to make an organized fight against the control which they assert organized labor is trying to obtain over the realm of art.

The recent experience of Director Sculptor Bitter, of the St. Louis exposition, with the Plasterers' union of that city, has brought the matter to a focus, and a movement is now under way to establish one or more international organizations in an effort to protect art workers from interference by striking plasterers, house painters, plumbers, bricklayers and other craftsmen employed on structures where the artist or sculptor does his part in the scheme or ornamentation.

ENGINE BROKE DOWN—The engine pulling the morning accommodation train No. 122 from Fulton to Louisville, broke down between Mayfield and Fulton and the train was delayed an hour, arriving here about 8:40 o'clock.

A METROPOLIS WEDDING.

Theatrical Notes.

Most people know that "Peck's Bad Boy" is a potpourri of funny incidents, brilliant repartee and ludicrous situations. Some more definite information, however, might be interesting. The production is the apotheosis of modern comedy. It is cleverly arranged, and is as devoid of a plot as a church stew is of oysters, and the incidents recur with such startling rapidity as to cause continuous laughter. It is reported that "Peck's Bad Boy" is very clever and that there is not an unwholesome line in it. It has many complications which might be described as "screams," and they are all most plausible, even if they are laughable. The man who cannot laugh, says Carlisle, "is not only fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils, but his whole life is already a treason and a stratagem." "Peck's Bad Boy" will make you laugh in spite of yourself at The Kentucky on Friday evening.

"At Cripple Creek" will be the attraction at the Kentucky next Monday night. It is by the well-known author, Hal Reid, and is conceded by managers to be the best native drama of Western life that has been given to the American stage for several decades. It tells a pure, sweet story, healthy in tone and bright in action. The four scenes of the play are laid in a mining camp among the Colorado mountains and each act is expensively and handsomely mounted, a car load of scenery being carried for the production.

"Ghosts" is termed and well named the "drama of heredity." Leading critics have asserted that in many respects it is one of the strongest plays in the whole history of the stage. The celebrated play of Henrik Ibsen undoubtedly has a lesson to teach and it preaches a most powerful sermon. After the many plays that have visited this city it is gratifying to announce that "Ghosts" will be presented here for the first time shortly with Alberta Gallatin in the title role.

"Listen, my child, and you shall hear, Of the midnight ride of Paul Revere." How the old verse sends one's mind back to the half forgotten days of childhood. Richard Buhler will appear at the Kentucky on Saturday matinee and night in a play built upon the story of "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere." Mr. Buhler is admirably suited to the part of the man who rode like a demon through the long dark night, warning his fellow men of the approach of the red coats.

The consensus of opinion of both critics and public is that Law Stock-staler has the best minstrel show of the last ten years, and his business everywhere has been record breaking.

Mr. Guy Kaufman, in advance of "Railroad Jack" is at the Palmer.

ALICE of OLD VINCENNES

By MAURICE THOMPSON

Copyright, 1900, by the POWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

Farnsworth smiled, rubbing his side triumphantly, but he shook his head. "I'm sure it's puzzling, indeed." Hamilton sat in thoughtful silence for awhile, then abruptly changed the subject.

"I think, captain, that you had better send out Lieutenant Barlow and some of the best woodsmen to kill some game. We need fresh venison, and, by George, I'm not going to depend upon these French trappers any longer. I have set my foot down. They've got to do better or take the consequences." He paused for a breath, then added: "That girl has done too much to escape severe punishment. The garrison will be demoralized if this thing goes on without an example of authority rigidly enforced. I am resolved that there shall be a startling and effective public display of my power to punish. She shot you. You seem to be glad of it, but it was a grave offense. She has stabbed Barlow. That is another serious crime, but worst of all, she aided a spy and resisted arrest. She must be punished."

Farnsworth knew Hamilton's nature, and he now saw that Alice was in dreadful danger of death or something even worse. No sooner had he left headquarters and given Barlow his instructions touching the hunting expedition than his mind began to wander amid visions and schemes by no means consistent with his military obligations. In order to reflect undisturbed he went forth into the dreary, lonesome streets of Vincennes and walked aimlessly here and there until he met Father Beret.

Farnsworth saluted the old man and was passing him by when, seeing a sword in his hand half hidden in the folds of his worn and faded cassock, he turned and addressed him:

"Why are you armed this morning, father?" he demanded very pleasantly. "Who is to suffer now?"

"I am not on the warpath, my son," replied the priest. "It is but a rapier that I am going to clean of rust spots that are gathering on its blade."

"Is it yours, father? Let me see it." He held out his hand.

"No; not mine."

Father Beret seemed not to notice Farnsworth's desire to handle the weapon, and the young man instead of repeating his words reached farther, nearly grasping the scabbard.

"I cannot let you take it, my son," said Father Beret. "You have its uncle. That should satisfy you."

"No," Colonel Hamilton took it. Farnsworth quickly replied: "If I could I would gladly return it to its owner. I am not a thief, father, and I am ashamed of—of what I did when I was drunk."

The priest looked sharply into Farnsworth's eyes and read there something that reassured him. His long experience had rendered him adept at taking a man's value at a glance. He slightly lifted his face and said:

"Ah, but the poor little girl! Why do you persecute her? She really does not deserve it. She is a noble child. Give her back to her home and her people. Do not soil and spoil her sweet life."

It was the singsong voice used by Father Beret in his sermons and prayers, but something went with it indescribably touching. Farnsworth felt a lump rise in his throat, and his eyes were ready to show tears.

"Father," he said with diffidence, making his words distinct, "I would not harm Miss Hamilton to save my own life, and I would do anything."

He paused slightly, then added with passionate force, "I would do anything, no matter what, to save her from the terrible thing that now threatens her."

Father Beret's countenance changed curiously as he gazed at the young man and said:

"If you really mean what you say you can easily save her, my son."

"Father, by all that is holy, I mean just what I say."

"Swear not at all, my son, but give me your hand."

The two men stood with a tight grip between them and exchanged a long, steady, searching gaze.

A drizzling rain had begun to fall again, with a raw wind creeping from the west.

"Come with me to my house, my son," Father Beret presently added, and together they went, the priest covering Alice's sword from the rain with the folds of his cassock.

CHAPTER XV.

VIRTUE IS A LOCKET.

LONG HAIR stood not upon ceremony in conveying to Beverley the information that he was to run the gauntlet. The preparations were simple and quickly made.

Each man armed himself with a stick three feet long and about three-quarters of an inch in diameter. Rough weapons they were, cut from boughs of scrub oak, knotty and tough as horn. Long Hair unlashed his body down to the waist. Then the lines formed, the Indians in each row standing about as far apart as the width of the space in which the prisoner was to run. This arrangement gave them free use of their sticks and plenty of room for full swing of their little bodies.

In removing Beverley's clothes Long Hair found Alice's locket hanging over the young man's heart. He tore it rudely off and grinned, glaring viciously first at it, then at Beverley. He seemed to be mightily wrought upon.

"White man thief!" he growled deep in his throat. "Stole from little girl!" He put the locket in his pouch and resumed his stupidly indifferent expression.

When everything was ready for the delightful entertainment to begin Long Hair waved his tomahawk three times over Beverley's head and, pointing down between the waiting lines, said:

"Ugh, run!"

But Beverley did not budge. He was standing erect, with his arms, deeply creased where the thongs had sunk, folded across his breast. A rush of thoughts and feelings had taken tumultuous possession of him, and he could not move or decide what to do. A mad desire to escape arose in his heart the moment that he saw Long Hair take the locket. It was as if Alice had cried to him and bidden him make a dash for liberty.

"Ugh, run!"

The order was accompanied with a push of such violence from Long Hair's left elbow that Beverley plunged and fell, for his limbs, after their long and painful confinement in the rawhide bonds, were stiff and almost useless. Long Hair in no gentle voice bade him get up. The shock of falling seemed to awaken his dormant forces; a sudden resolve leaped into his brain. He saw that the Indians had put aside their bows and guns, most of which were leaning against the boles of trees here and yonder. What if he could knock Long Hair down and run away? This might possibly be easy, considering the Indian's broken arm. His heart jumped at the possibility. But the shrewd savage was alert and saw the thought come into his face.

"You try git 'way, kill dead!" he snarled, lifting his tomahawk ready for a stroke. "Brains out!"

Beverley glanced down the waiting and eager lines. Swiftly he speculated, wondering what would be his chance for escape were he to break through. But he did not take his own condition into account.

"Ugh, run!"

Again the elbow of Long Hair's hurt arm pushed him toward the expectant rows of Indians, who flourished their clubs and uttered impatient grunts.

Beverley made a direct dash for the narrow lane between the braced and watchful lines. Every warrior lifted his club. Every copper face glomed steadily, a mask behind which burned in strangely atrocious spirit. The two savages standing at the end nearest Beverley struck at him the instant he reached them, but they were taken quite by surprise when he checked himself between them and, leaping this way and that, swung out two powerful blows, left and right, stretching one of them flat and sending the other reeling and staggering half a dozen paces backward with the blood streaming from his nose.

This done, Beverley turned to run away, but his breath was already short and his strength rapidly going.

Long Hair, who was at his heels, leaped before him when he had gone but a few steps and once more flourished the tomahawk. To struggle was useless save to insist upon being brained outright, which just then had no part in Beverley's considerations. Long Hair kicked his victim heavily, uttering incoherent curses meanwhile, and led him back again to the starting point.

Blood Poisoned Sufferers=READ THE HISTORY OF A MOST REMARKABLE CURE

COMPLETE AND TRUTHFUL STORY OF THE CASE OF J. M. JONES OF PRINCETON, KY.

Portrait of J. M. JONES, Princeton, Ky.

Twelve years ago Mr. John M. Jones of Caldwell county, Ky., began to suffer from terrible sores on his arms as the result of blood poisoning, and in a short time on his left arm seventeen running sores developed between the hand and the elbow. These were very painful and very offensive, incapacitating him entirely for work. The pain was so severe that he could not sleep without elevating his arm on a pillow.

After undergoing excruciating torture for years, and treating with the best physicians, he went to Nashville, Tenn., and underwent a course of treatment with a specialist. This was all unavailing and finally the matter was submitted to a consultation of doctors and they decided that the only way to save his life was by amputating the arm.

At the time he arrived in the city to have this operation performed, Mr. Jones happened to meet Mr. Hugh Mayes who was then the proprietor of Foerg's Remedy. Mr. Mayes became immediately interested in the case and proposed to Mr. Jones that he would furnish him with Foerg's Remedy absolutely free so that he might give it a good trial and perhaps in his way save his arm. Mr. Jones accepted the offer and about eight months ago began taking this remedy.

We print here a cut showing the arm before taking the remedy and the appearance of the arm as it is today.

The following statement signed by the various officials of Caldwell county, Ky., and others of Masonic Lodge substantiates this story.

Princeton, Ky., May 11, 1903.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: This is to certify that we, the undersigned, have known Mr. John M. Jones of Caldwell county, Kentucky, for many years, and have known personally that he was a very great sufferer from running sores on his arm. We have just seen Mr.

Jones' arm this day and he made the following statement of it in our presence. He says that he had 17 running sores on his left arm between the hand and elbow; that they were of 12 years' duration, very painful and very offensive; that he could not sleep for pain, and for many years when he did sleep he would have to elevate his arm in a pillow and that on one occasion he came to Princeton for the purpose of submitting to an operation by having his arm amputated, that being the only hope as held out by the best physicians. After arriving in Princeton his heart failed him and he refused to have the operation performed, saying he would rather die than submit to it. About that time Mr. Hugh Mayes, proprietor of Foerg's Remedy, proposed to him that he would furnish him this great blood remedy absolutely free, saying he was confident it would cure him. Mr. Jones accepted the offer and about 8 months ago began taking it and that today he only has two sores running at all and they are almost stopped. Mr. Jones attributes his being alive today to this great remedy. He exhibited his arm to us and we could plainly see that he has been greatly benefited, his complexion being clear and he looks so much better in every way. We certify that Mr. Jones is a reputable citizen, tough, poor, and it was a charitable act in Mr. Mayes giving him this remedy. He is very loud in praise of it and we personally know that he has been greatly benefited by it.

E. M. JOHNSON, Clerk Criminal and Chancery Court, JOHN H. STEVENS, Ex-Sheriff of Caldwell county, Ky., WILLIAM E. DODDS, Ex-Deputy Sheriff, WYLLIE JONES, Sheriff Caldwell Co., Ky., R. L. GREENHAM, Clerk Caldwell Co., Court, W. S. RANDOLPH, Judge Caldwell Co. Court.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: We the undersigned state that we have been acquainted with J. M. Jones, Rufus Caldwell county, Ky., all his life, and under the watching condition of his arm and hand for twelve (12) years or more and can say that when he commenced to take Foerg's Remedy, he was in a pitiable condition. Now we find him greatly improved, at work, and as healthy looking as any man in our community.

J. M. MASON, Master F. & A. M. No. 471 Lodge of Masons, JOSEPH BOITNOTT, P. W. M.

Read This Statement from Mr. Jones Himself.

When I first commenced to take Foerg's Remedy I had 17 running sores on left arm and hand and my hand and arms were swollen and pained me all the time. Could not sleep unless arm and hand were elevated. After the first bottle felt great relief. After taking the 2nd or 3rd bottle was almost relieved from pain. Sores began to heal. After the 7th or 8th bottle all sores had healed but two. And then commenced to use my hand, something I had not done for many years, besides spending all I had with doctors seemingly getting no relief. I belong to Farmersville Lodge of Masons No. 471 and am now Stewart and Tyler of same. Now my arm is so much improved that I am plowing on the farm and doing regular work.

POISONED BLOOD.

Its Causes and Effects:

If every man only knew how to avoid contact with those infected with specific blood poisoning, that most loathsome of all known diseases would be entirely wiped out in fifty years. But this dread disease has entered of late years on a terrible rampage. In some localities it has even assumed the character of an epidemic, infecting everything and everybody, the guilty and guiltless alike.

No man can say that he will never be a victim of this terrible scourge. It has brought its curse upon the babe. It has invaded the innocence of childhood, youth and virginity. It has in its clutches a countless army of unfortunates, struggling and chafing under its bonds, yet ignorant of the way to freedom. It comes among its slaves the high and the low, the captain of commerce, the modest toiler.

It is a disease that drags the victim down in its course rapidly and mercilessly, stealing the brain, leaving the body to fall in weakness, eating out the very bones, and finally with a defiant finger, points out to the wretched victim the last resort, which is a retreat for life and anatomy, or else, it orders a more charitable ending—death.

Specific blood poisoning is growing in an alarming way. Doctors and even a special class they are not able to cope with it.

Anyone who is afflicted with specific blood poison in the primary or secondary stages is a danger to everyone with whom he comes in contact.

For instance, the members of a family may all contract it by using the same towels. A servant or visiting friend may infect the innocent babe of the house, and singly by kissing it; parents may infect their children, husbands their wives, and friends their associates.

COURSE OF THE DISEASE.

For the first few weeks after the victim has become infected, he will notice nothing unusual, and his health will be apparently undisturbed. This is called the period of incubation, during which time no symptoms whatever will appear. Nevertheless during this time the disease is quickly ripening, gathering force and virulence, ready to burst out in all its terrors within a few weeks.

FIRST STAGE.

The first symptom of specific blood poisoning appears at the place where the poison first entered the system, on the mouth or tongue, around the finger nail, or any other part of the body, depending entirely on the source of infection.

These sores have a peculiar hardness surrounding and underlying the sores.

Sometimes, however, the only evidence of the primary infection are fine pimples at the point of inoculation.

In about a month or less time, the glands nearest to the sore will enlarge, become hard and sometimes break.

SECONDARY STAGE.

From two weeks to two months after the appearance of the first sore, the symptoms of the secondary stage will appear.

Right here let us say that because the primary sore has been healed either by the use of caustics or by nature itself, it is no proof that the disease is not still in the system.

Many of the most virulent and horrible conditions of blood poisoned patients with which we have to contend would never have manifested themselves, had the patient heeded Nature's warnings at the start and begun taking Foerg's Remedy to perfectly purify the blood of the deadly poison.

The secondary stage begins generally with a slight fever, with a breaking out on various parts of the body, and with a rash usually resembling measles, but in a more scattered form. Then little white cancerous sores will appear in the mouth and on the tongue.

The patient will have become by this time a human poison-bomb. The bones themselves will next be attacked. The patient will be complaining of sharp, torturing pains all over the body, increasing in intensity at night.

There may be severe headache, the hair and eyebrows will begin to fall out in spots, and the scalp become covered with running sores, presenting a loathsome and disgusting sight.

THIRD STAGE.

The third stage of specific blood poisoning offers the most pitiable and shocking condition that the human flesh can fall heir to. Now we see the body a mass of shivering, eating ulcers, tumors, and chronic running sores. The victim suffers pains in the muscles, looseness of the joints, rotting of the bones, unsteady gait, shivering in the head, dizziness, poor memory, confusion of thought, swirling vision, inflamed eyes. Then years after comes the slow approach of paralysis, complete ataxia, epilepsy or the complete loss of memory and ability to think, defective speech, deafness, consumption, and lastly softening of the brain, insanity and death.

HISTORY OF FOERG'S REMEDY

WHY IT CURES.

Over ten years ago PhE Foerg of Princeton, Ky., made a study of "specific" blood poison and began to perfect a remedy for the cure of same. Believing in Nature's cures, he went out into the woods and gathered such roots and herbs as he believed were necessary.

After four years of experimenting in the way he perfected this remedy. Being a man of means he gave the remedy away to all who needed it in order to test thoroughly the results arising from its use. He found in this way that it would absolutely cure all cases of blood poisoning that came under his notice.

A few years ago he started placing it on the market in a very small way. At his death about a year and a half ago, he bequeathed the formula to Mr. Hugh Mayes, and notwithstanding the fact that up to the present time there had never been a penny spent in advertising this remedy, the sale of it grew to such enormous proportions simply from one user telling others about its wonderful results, that last year the business on this remedy came from thirty-three different states and territories. The demand became so great that Mr. Mayes sold the formula to the Foerg Remedy Co., of which company he is secretary, treasurer and general manager, and the remedy is now being prepared under his personal supervision. The formula has been submitted to eminent chemists and they report that they have never seen a remedy that contained purer or better ingredients. Being absolutely free from mercury or any minerals and being purely vegetable, it cures without any of the terrible after results usually arising from mercurial treatments.

The account of the peculiar herbs, etc., used in its preparation, the cost of manufacture is probably four times as great as any other blood remedy on the market. In the last five years there has not been a single case of blood poisoning that has not succumbed to Foerg Remedy.

"HOW LONG IS A JIFFY?"

IT'S not long enough to define, yet it's plenty long to get a roaring hot fire in your grate or stove these cold, crisp mornings with good, clean "bottom" coal. In a "jiffy" you can have a fire made, your bed-room warm, kitchen stove hot and breakfast on the dot.

Good "bottom" coal does all this and more, too; it's cheaper, it's cleaner, it's less worry than "slaty-top-coal." "Bottom" coal is every bit coal, the rich, oily part, entirely free from all foreign matter. It burns briskly, makes a large flame and throws out an intense heat, burning to a white ash, very little clinker.

Whenever you come right down to "coal facts" it is the quality that tells the tale. Whenever you buy coal from "The Coal Office" you get quality, because it's "bottom" coal, every piece coal.

The pleasures of the home are greatly enhanced if you burn good coal. If you care as much about the comfort of your family as you do about their looks you'll supply them with "bottom" coal from "THE COAL OFFICE." Good Kentucky "bottom" coal is what we send all our customers. There're pleased, too.
